Cheryl Cardoza moved and Olga Mesina seconded to recommend to the Diversity Taskforce to evaluate GELO #4 to change the wording from “demonstrate ...” to “analyze the physical, institutional, social, and cultural barriers.” The motion passed.

Chair Jinger Doe will arrange an email vote with the committee.

New Business

eLumen SLO wording revisions : The current wording for SLO scoring are “Exemplary”, “Proficient”, “Marginal”, and “Unacceptable” The suggested changes are: “ Exceeds Expectations ”, “Meets Expectations ”, “Approaching Expectations ”, “Does Not Meet Expectations ”. The committee discussed the pros and cons of the new wording and wondered if the departments know they may update the descriptions. Melissa Deadmond will work to advertise this to the departments. Sam Byington shared what was created at the Edison Campus with customized language for welding and machining courses. The committee further discussed how to let faculty know they can make changes. Chair Jinger Doe will send the proposed wording and grid to department chairs to take to their departments. This will go on the next ASA agenda under old business.

GELO assessment schedule: Information Literacy will be worked on in the Spring Semester. A taskforce will be formed. Volunteers so far are Josh Shinn, Cheryl Cardoza, Jinger Doe, Melissa Deadmond, and Sharif Rumjahn. Jinger will do an email request for volunteers and a chair will be appointed when the taskforce is formed. It was mentioned to add finding sources as a task for Information Literacy GELOs.

GELO rubrics : A taskforce will be formed to create the Quantitative Reasoning Rubric in the Spring. It was suggested to review learning outcomes that are not used and find out why. With individual courses, other outcomes will be suggested over the easier outcomes which are frequently chosen. It was noted to keep faculty es9ta and 1.3 (e)2 (e)6.3 (w)7 (n)-1 (d)2.3 (f)11.3 (i)od ut why su
