Current Business / Quick Updates

Drupal Training Class Completed: A Drupal training session was held on January 9 with four participants. It appears that most users who need Drupal training have already been trained. However, many web requests still require Web Services to handle the work directly, including forms, coding, images, and PDFs. Future training sessions will be scheduled as needed.

Event Page for Readerboard Integration: A new Drupal page is being developed with a dedicated theme that dynamically pulls in weekly content from the Events Calendar. This will help keep event details more up-to-date by
